President’s Message

By Prasad Kunisetty

We are expecting few more to join the board in the next few months as we got introduced to several amazing people during our event.

Thank you all for your amazing support for the annual event and helping us exceed the fundraising expectations.

Thanks to our convener Praveen Guduru and co-convener Kiran Chagarlamudi for the successful event. Thanks to Orange Moon Concept Media Team for the making the event so memorable. Thanks a lot to our Special Guests Dr. Afsar Mohammad garu, Dr. Jyothi Reddy Dudipala garu, Bhaskar Ganti garu and Praveen Tadakamalla garu. Very special thanks to our Brand Ambassador, well known Music Director RP Patnaik garu, and all our entertainment team members Prasad Simhadri garu, Sri Krishna garu, Sundari garu, Srikanth garu, Manoj garu and Imitation Raju garu.

TeluguPeople Foundation sincerely thank all scientists who took part in inventing the vaccine, the doctors, nurses, and all other healthcare workers, first responders and everyone working for others during these difficult times.

Request for more Volunteers and Leaders

We are growing as an organization. We all can proudly say that every student we are helping can directly or indirectly influence and bring change in the lives of another 100 people in the short, medium and long terms. To keep up with this growth, we need more hands, more volunteers and leaders. If you have passion & compassion and have at least 5 hours of time every week to spend for the organization, please let us know and be a leader, or a volunteer for the TeluguPeople Foundation.

As an organization, TeluguPeople Foundation must cover a lot of areas right from marketing, media, promotion, social media activities, fundraising activities, donor management, student monitoring and mentoring, application process, accounting, systems and data maintenance, volunteer recruitment and what not. You can work in your own specialization, and area for the TeluguPeople Foundation. All we need is dedication and commitment from you. By working with a nonprofit organization, you will get connected with many people in the community, your communication skills and your leadership skills will improve. These skills can directly and indirectly help you succeed in your professional and business life. So, please think about volunteering for TeluguPeople Foundation!

Once again, I sincerely thank all of you for what and where we are today. Special thanks to Lava, Nikhil Gandhi, Sandeep, Satya, Dharmesh Rana, Rohit and everyone involved in preparing and delivering this caTELyst Newsletter to all of you every quarter.

Thank you and best regards,
Prasad Kunisetty on behalf of TPF Board

TPF పుష్కరాలు 2020

By Praveen Guduru, Convener

There are a total of 1.5 million charities registered in US according to National Center for Charitable Statistics. Of those only 2,171 (0.1%) are actively working in higher education space and reporting finances per IRS regulations. Higher education a special place in everybody’s life, as it sets up carrier path to settle in life. A well-settled person with good carrier path is key for a successful family and society. We are very proud to be one of the very few to create most impact for your donation through serving the most underserved.

Year 2020 marks a special year for us in our organizational journey. It has been 12 years since we started Telugu People Foundation on a collective mission to help students pursue their dreams. What started as a small experiment many years ago, gathered momentum with each student’s success and with support from friends, family. It became a mission thereafter, with hundreds of donors trusting us with their hard-earned money, to help another like themselves succeed. There were moments when we were hesitant to seek donations. We were not too sure if we can protect the trust that our donors bestowed us. Looking back, we are glad that we did. The support was unconditional, overwhelming and beyond my imagination.

With every donor and every dollar, we started believing in our students, our processes and ourselves. We built an infrastructure for a long-lasting organization, with core values that puts students, donors, volunteers front and center. It is not about the organization, or us, but it is your wishes, your trust and our student’s dreams. In the process, we have surpassed a milestone that more than 70% of for-profit businesses and 30% of non-profit organizations do not. I would like to wholeheartedly congratulate and thank each one who is putting so much effort and time on this occasion.

A period of 12 years is called Pushkaram in India and has a special place as a festive occasion in Indian culture, to represent that, we named the event as TPF-Pushkaraalu. We do our annual event every year in summer month of June, but due to COVID pandemic, we were not able to organize the as planned in June and almost missed to organize in 2020. Finally, in November we decided to go digital and conduct a virtual event on 12th December. As we never did a virtual event and being our first time, we were nervous about technical glitches, interruptions, delays, coordination among performers joining from various locations in US and India etc. We were delighted to see that the program was smooth, without a glitch. The attendance was incredible. Hundreds of people watched the live stream from over 10 nations. Many of them were inspired by our students’ achievements in conditions of adversity and shared their support verbally and in messages and letters. With this kind of response, we are confident we will celebrate many more Pushkaraalu!!.

A copy of the video is available here. A shorter version is available here.

We would like to take a moment here to acknowledge and thank all our sponsors, musicians, performers, donors, volunteers, supporters, students, and everyone involved in making this program a huge success. Thank you all.

By V. Ramakrishna, Managing Trustee

In the quarter under consideration TeluguPeople Foundation India (“TPFI”) activities include the below:

Mr. GRK Prasad, Executive Director of Nava Bharat Ventures has joined as Trustee for TPFI.

A graduation in Bachelor of Science with Botany, Zoology and Chemistry followed by Chartered Accountancy and Company Secretary ship by 1982 covered wide ranging academic and professional interests. A stint of over a quarter century in Nava Bharat Group, in a career spanning 4 decades, helped me acquire incisive corporate work culture at the highest echelon.

While being passionate in philanthropic activities, I believe in contributions that make a difference to the community at large up to a point of self-sustenance. College education support to the deserving should go a long way in serving the objectives of TPF and am happy to be associated in whatever way possible.

We collected ₹2,87,000 as donations during the 12th Annual event on 12/12/2020. Though this is our first full year in operations, we were pleased to raise such a decent amount.

We disbursed ₹2,65,500 as scholarships to 12 students and furthermore, working closely with another charitable institution and disbursed scholarships worth ₹2,00,000 to our students.
Treasurer’s report

By Lava Boggavarapu

I’m excited to welcome Mr. Srikant as our Joint-Treasurer to help us with the Treasury operations.

Srikant is an IT professional. He has an interest in social service and has organized few blood donation camps, volunteered for Farmer and Water related activities etc. He is passionate about Health, Yoga, Indian history & culture.

Strong believer that: No work nor No person is small and that every person can contribute in a special way to make a positive impact to society and improve people’s lives!!

We are getting ready to send you the receipts for all your donations made in 2020.

Amazon Smiles continues to be generous to our cause – in all of 2020, we received a total of $37.97 from them. When you purchase from Amazon, please login via Amazon Smiles and select TeluguPeople Foundation as your favorite charity. Amazon donates 0.05% of the transaction to us.

Prior to donating, please check the Matching Gifts section in our Donate page. You can easily double, or even triple, your impact in case your employer matches your Donation. Your employer may be matching your donation.
Below are the un-audited numbers for the FY 2020. Thanks to your continued support, we were able to raise enough money to reach our goals despite the global pandemic, COVID-19. Very soon we will be sending the numbers to our CPA, Mr. Ravi Ramaswamy for filing the tax returns for the past calendar year.

We still have some matching donations in the pipeline that will be credited to our bank account in 2021 Q1. We had quite a few donations in December 2020 that caused the matching donations to be carried forward to 2021.

Students Update

By Kiran Chagarlumudi, Director – Student Engagement

The year 2020 has been a challenging year for everyone, including our students. Unlike others, the Application process is slow as the colleges opened late due to COVID-19 and we are still receiving new scholarships requests.

New Scholarships offered during the quarter:

We have reached a new milestone of sponsoring 200+ students. Furthermore, we have crossed ₹2,00,00,000 cumulative benefit disbursed. This would not have been possible without the support from our generous donors and dedicated volunteers. TPF donations through our donor’s support, gave the students opportunity to pursue their dreams without having to worry about financial limitations.

We offered scholarships for 5 new students during this 2020 Q4.

Here is a summary of couple of profiles

We sponsored a girl student to attend MBBS in a prestigious university in Hyderabad. The student appeared National Eligibility cum Entrance Test (NEET) and achieved good percentile in All India level.

She is economically from low-income family and her father is an Auto driver. We are happy to empower her to pursue her dreams. I am sure she will make a difference in many lives through her professional career.

We sponsored another girl student to attend MBBS in a college in Hyderabad. The student is from a farming family with four children from a small village in Telangana.

The below picture speaks more about the family’s economic status and why we chose to support her.
Recurring Scholarships offered during the quarter:

In addition to the new students, we have renewed scholarships for 27 existing students for continuing their education. The renewal is based on meeting the same rigorous criteria of academic excellence and economic need.

Our Students never let us down.

We have received lots of good news from all our students. It gives us immense joy that we have been able to create an impact in many student’s lives. We Thank our donors for giving us an opportunity to reward these wonderful students for their commitment.

Student 1 (name withheld to respect his privacy)

One of our students is employed in Defense Research and Development Organization ("DRDO") as a Senior Technician. His family lives in a small house with only one light and no TV set.

Now he is earning 7 times more than his father’s income and 4 times more than his combined family’s income.

What’s more, he offered to contribute 2K per month to our Foundation in India to help another student.
Here are the few more accomplishments of our students

Sir this is [redacted]. I am thankful to you and TPF sir for providing the scholarship for 4 years. I recently done my training from Sofcon india pvt Ltd Delhi. Sir I got selected for the company Accurate flowmeters and instruments pvt Ltd Hyderabad today. Initially the prohibition time is for 3 months where they will pay 11 k per month and sir they told me that the final package will be fixed based on my performance in these 3 months. I felt happy and I wanted to share it with you. Once again thank you very much sir.

To Lava, me

Good evening Sir,

I would like to inform you that my under graduation results are out and I secured 8.58 CGPA out of 10. Recently I attended to convocation ceremony also. I am very happy to share with you that I got selected in Capgemini through campus placements and the joining date will be soon. I am very thankful to each and every member of Telugu People Foundation for helping and supporting me for my education.

Thank you Sir

To me

Hi Sir,

I hope you are doing well...

From December 1st 2020 I’ve joined in USM business systems. It’s complete job on US Staffing. The timings are also from 07:30 pm to 04:30 am (Mon-Fri).

As you are supportive in my tough times it’s my responsibility to convey this. Because without you this wouldn’t have been possible...

Thanking you sir...

Volunteer with Us!

By Sunil Chitrapu, Director – Volunteerism

Growing up, I was taught to give back and share with the society. Driven by this passion, principles and commitment to the society, I was working with TeamAid (Team Aid helps individuals living abroad that experience unexpected tragedies and looking for help) and extended help to the needy. Now, I want to do the same thing with TPF.

I believe in an equal opportunity when it comes to education, which I can truly deliver by working with TeluguPeople Foundation.

Volunteering is a fun and easy way for me to explore my interests and passion. Volunteer work for me is meaningful, interesting and relaxing, and an energizing escape from day-to-day routine.

Also, I truly believe in the following benefits of volunteering.

Make a difference
Volunteering can have a real and valuable positive affect on people, communities and society in general.

Gain confidence and self-esteem
Volunteering can help you gain confidence and self-esteem by giving you the chance to try something new and build a real sense of achievement.

Meet people and make friends
Volunteering is a very to meet different kinds of people and make new friends. People also build closer and stronger relationships, especially if it’s for a good and common cause.

Learn valuable skills
Volunteering can help you learn new skills, gain experience and sometimes even new qualifications.

Take on a challenge
Through volunteering you can challenge yourself to try something different, achieve personal goals, practice using your skills and discover hidden talents.

Be part of a community
Volunteering can help you feel part of something outside your friends and family.

Have fun!
Most volunteers have a great time, regardless of why they do it.
Presidential Volunteer Service Awards (PVSA)

From one of our Students

The night is cold. It’s around 8 pm. I am travelling back to Guntur from Srikakulam. Today I spent time with an inspiring person, Mr. Sandilya Garimella, with due thanks to Mr. Lava Boggavarapu, Treasurer, at TeluguPeople Foundation, for connecting us.

After my father’s death I faced many problems to continue my formal education, but I am currently doing my Under Graduation with the help of TeluguPeople Foundation. I soon realized there are lot many people struggling for formal education and I wanted to help at least few of them.

Then I started We Are with You Charitable Trust with my friends and soon we registered our organization under Government of India.

We have nine different projects working under the fields of education, health, women menstrual hygiene and environment. Each project is aimed to solve different problem.

Project Bhavishya aims to help under privileged students by providing career guidance and life skills at government schools and slum areas.

Project Vaaradhi helps semi orphan and orphan kids by providing basic needs from health to education.

Project Scholarships helps kids in sharing information about scholarships available after high school and during under graduation. We are about to release a book named Bhavishya which includes career guidance and data of scholarships available for a student at various stages of his student life.

Project Grandhalaya connects book needy to book donors.

Project Arogya spreads health awareness.

Project Swechha spreads awareness about women menstrual hygiene.

Project Paryavaran spreads awareness about environment.

Project Annapurna helps needy by providing food and cloths.

Project Abhaya celebrates birthdays, anniversaries and other special days at orphanages and old age homes; along with that we collect rice from households and donate them to orphanages and old age homes.
Along with these we conduct workshops about life skills and adolescent health education. We did all these with the help of many supporters and volunteers. We found a lot of motivation and inspiration from each and every person and every activity we did.

TeluguPeople Foundation is one of the inspirations for me to start this organization. A lot many organizations and people helped our vision. TeluguPeople Foundation is one among them. I get scholarship from TeluguPeople Foundation.

Mr. Garimella also liked our work. He was visiting India and wanted to meet me in person. I went Srikakulam to meet him. We interacted with each other. I was inspired by his life story. After listening to our future plans, he donated an amount of Thirty Thousand rupees. He introduced his family and promised that he would help us anytime.

Gaining trust from a person is a difficult task and I gained trust from the people at TPF. I cannot achieve this without help from my team and volunteer network. I am thankful to my team and volunteer network. I hope your support will continue in future too.

Wait...! I never mentioned my name. I am Ayyappa Siginam, founder of We Are with You Charitable Trust.
The “possible” impact of Higher-Education Scholarships

By Subbarao Seethamsetty Hamilton, Ontario, Canada

TeluguPeople Foundation (TPF) has just celebrated its 12 years of successful operations as a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization based out of NJ with a current mandate of providing need-based scholarships for higher education to students in the two Telugu speaking states in India.

A very careful and elaborate process for selection of the candidates ensures that in each case there is a genuine financial need and that the scholarship awarded makes a material difference to the student and his / her immediate family. To date, in the last 12 years, around 200+ scholarships were awarded to students to pursue B.Tech, MBBS and other professional / higher studies and most of them reported being successfully settled in good jobs.

On the surface, the benefits of wellbeing and career growth potential of the scholarship awardees are obvious and, in most cases, but for the scholarship, the end-result would not have been so overwhelmingly positive. A deeper inquiry that needs to be made, however, is to understand the “possible” larger and secondary impact of each scholarship award on families and children around each student’s milieu including his immediate family. How does it impact siblings and parents? How does it impact the extended family, friends, peers, and the school going children in the village or the neighborhood? How does it impact the health outcomes of those associated? How does it impact governance at the local panchayat and community level? A key element to focus here is the importance of a “role-model”.

It would be a safe assumption to make that the scholarship awardees themselves would have been influenced by powerful role-models early in their lives that enabled them to strive to continue with their deep studies under difficult circumstances and with scarce resources. We can further safely assume that there might have been many temptations and reasons for them to take easier routes and give up their studies. The proof that they won those significant battles of life is evidenced in their admission to a professional college and being awarded the TPF scholarship.

TPF should consider launching a formal multi-year longitudinal study using scientific rigor, data science, AI, and ML applied on carefully harvested multi-media bigdata of video clips, interviews, images, social media postings, writings, published statistics and news documenting the trajectory of the 360 degrees bubble around each scholarship awardee for the next decade and beyond.

Now with their own success and better living conditions clearly visible in their physical circumstances, they now serve as beacons of hope and eminent role-models to everyone associated with them in a 360 degrees bubble. A dramatic illustration of the importance of role-models is when a school called Doorstep in Mumbai poor neighborhoods is naming streets, roads and alleys after school children who are excelling in their studies, the impact that it is having on the other children and on the adults in the surrounding community is best described as “electrifying”. TPF is now entering its 13th year and has a rich set of historical but accessible cohort and data of positively influencing the lives of 200+ deserving scholarship awardees till date. TPF should consider launching a formal multi-year longitudinal study using scientific rigor, data science, AI, and ML applied on carefully harvested multi-media bigdata of video clips, interviews, images, social media postings, writings, published statistics and news documenting the trajectory of the 360 degrees bubble around each scholarship awardee for the next decade and beyond. Of the many challenges, given the core values of TPF, “deidentification” of data to preserve awardee privacy like for HIPPA compliance will be one of them but solvable. The importance of this recommendation for a rigorous longitudinal study is multifaceted in influencing macroeconomic policies of governments and advancement of research in development science, sociology, and anthropology.

TPF is uniquely positioned to undertake such an ambitious and much needed study given the brain-trust of its team, geographic location surrounded by world class institutions of learning that can serve as a rich source of interns, volunteering faculty, and coop students supported by research grants, physical office infrastructure available through the generosity of Effexoft Inc., and Teflon-tough silver heart strings extending unbroken from New Jersey to districts, mandals, and villages in Andhra and Telangana.

TPF’s projected reach is to positively impact over 500+ students in the next few years. The aspiration of such a rigorous, state-of-the-art, and internationally peer-reviewed and ongoing longitudinal study in influencing local, state, and central government policy is that it could positively impact the lives of 500,000+ students or more in just Andhra and Telangana. In effect, TPF’s efforts, with its limited cohort, will serve society as a crucible to demonstrate what is possible at a larger scale within the dynamics of real-world and current conditions. Downstream and secondarily, the positive results have the potential of influencing and expanding policies across the Indian subcontinent and beyond to the 90+ LMI (Low to Middle Income) countries in the world. Such a “possibility” and multiplier ripple effect, however remote, is worthy to be given due consideration and it befits TeluguPeople Foundation’s lofty founding-charter for the past 12 years and the stature of its illustrious and diverse team.
